Double or Nothing

The winning team has just won half of the entry money we've taken tonight, which is £x.

But they have the option to gamble that for the whole kitty, which is £35 rolled over from last month, plus the entire entry money from this month, so a total of £y.

To win the jackpot, we'll play a game of higher or lower with these playing cards. I'll turn the top card over, and you have to predict whether the next card is higher or lower. If you can predict the next card four times, you win. If the next card is the same, you lose. Aces are low. And if you draw a joker, you win automatically!
